

DOCUMENT AVAILABILITY/ACCESS POLICY

The documentation on the page that included this document will only be available to site visitors who have been verified as a current Honeywell customer, or potential Honeywell customer.

To facilitate the verification, you must:

1. Register on the site with the requisite personalization information.
2. Be subsequently verified as a customer/potential customer.
3. Be logged in.

Whether you see documents on the page (other than this one), is a function of your registration data and the verification process. If for some reason you think that your verification is in error, please contact us via E-Mail.

NOTE: If you are registered on the site, and have not logged in, please login now so that we may verify your level of access.

If you have not registered on the site but still need document access, please register. On the registration pages, please ensure you click on the checkbox that indicates you would like access to: quoting, order status, and personalized functions. The information you submit will be used to verify your status.

Click Here to begin the registration process. It will take approximately one working day to verify the information you provide. The first e-mail you receive after registering will be a confirmation that we have received your data. You will then receive a second e-mail once the verification process is complete that will confirm that the registration process is complete.

At that time, you will need to login to the site and see if you have been granted access to the additional documentation. If you still cannot access the additional documentation and feel that your verification is in error, please contact us via e-mail.

Thank you,

Honeywell Process Solutions
